

EndNote Site License

Empower your faculty and students to research smarter

These days, the researchers at your institution routinely collaborate on a global scale. They need help in streamlining their efforts, cutting out the time-consuming tedium of manually creating, maintaining, and sharing reference lists while managing input from colleagues worldwide. They need quick access to the best research and informed guidance on the optimal journals to which to submit their papers.

EndNote X9 is the reference management software that frees researchers from the laborious task of manually collecting and curating their research materials and formatting bibliographies. Additionally, X9 affords researchers greater ease and control in coordinating with colleagues, as well as the freedom to work in a Windows, iOS, Mac, or multi-platform environment. By providing an institutional site license for EndNote X9, you can help your users research smarter.
